

TREATCHEM

Quality Statement

Treatchem is committed to providing the highest quality, customer specific, chemical treatment programmes, which fulfil customer requirements. To achieve this objective the company operates a quality system to comply with EN ISO 9001:2000, all employees are required to work within the procedures therein.

The effective management of these services will be measured by:

- a) The confidence our Customers place in us
- b) Treatchem being allowed to provide other additional support and programmes to Customers' operations.

The efficient and professional management of Treatchem activities increases customer confidence and profitability by reducing overall total costs enabling them to focus on their own core business activities.
